FROM THE EDITOR

Last Saturday's match certainly fulfilled all our expectations as being one of the best soccer clashes ever seen in Canberra.

I am sure that all the spectators there agreed that the Arrows deserved every moment of their victory. The excitement and spectacle of the goals, scored against some of Australia's soccer super-stars, definitely foreshadows great things to come and fully supports the extensive media coverage of the result. This brand of soccer will ensure more soccer news for Canberra Arrows followers and must motivate each and every one of us to encourage greater support for a team so committed to winning.

The Arrows coach, George Murray, was quoted as saying after the game "that's the way I want the team to play. We never gave up and never let them settle." I am sure from the smiles on the Arrows' faces as they emerged from the dressing room that they felt George had good reasons to be proud of them and their gutsy teamwork.

Moving into the fifth round undefeated and still the only team not to have conceded a goal. Well done Arrows, we are all impressed by your dedication to win the ball.

WELCOME TO ADELAIDE HAWKS

This has been a fairly busy week for the Adelaide Hawks, having played S.A. State League side Para Hills in round 1 of the Phillips Cup on Wednesday night (result not known at time of printing) having just lost a hard-fought battle at home against Newcastle KB Raiders by the only goal (71st minute) of their Sunday PSL match.

Nevertheless, the midweek match probably provided a welcome chance for coach Billy Birch to pair striker David Pillans and former Greek International Con Kambas in a warm-up for today's PSL game. Their 2-0 win against Basic's Demons indicates their menace, but the Hawks might have to do some pretty fancy flying to avoid the sting of the Arrows' front runners in today's match.

A glance at the statistics elsewhere in the programme further underline the Arrows' strength at home against this side and promises an entertaining afternoon of soccer action.

MEDIA WATCH (by Bernie Harris)

THE GOAL THAT NEVER WAS . . . that shot by Sebastian Giampaolo in the dying minutes of our third round match against the Brisbane City Gladiators will long be the subject of controversy. When calling the match — and I didn't have the luxury of a monitor screen, let alone a replay device — I was at a loss to understand the ruling of the referee. The consensus of the media and some visiting officials of Brisbane Lions was that if Walter Valeri was not offside — and the linesman didn't indicate that — there must have been a handball. And that was what we all accepted until later when the referee put us right: the linesman had flagged for deliberate tripping. As the videotape reveals, when Bas ran into, or through, Jimmy Dunne, the ball was over the line with Walter urging it on.

In the middle of last week I was talking to the Gladies coach, George Potter, and mentioned the incident to him. He responded: 'Aye, well, Bernie let's say that I think the linesman was kind to us'. George hadn't spoken to any official about the decision and ventured the opinion that the linesman had flagged for handball. When I told him that the infringement was tripping, the line was quiet for a moment and then he said: 'Aye, well, Bernie, I think you can say then that the linesman was VERY, VERY kind to us. But it will balance out during the season.'

And we know that that is probably true too but, just think, if we'd got the right decision there we would now be sharing top points with Wollongong, Newcastle and South Melbourne. So, with that thought in mind, let's hear the cheers for the boys today; currently they are doing Canberra proud.

By the Way, BTQ-7 in Brisbane will extend its sportview soccer segment to fifteen minutes to interview George Murray and meet the girls when next we're in Brisbane!

SEXISM IS RIFE AT SPENCER PARK:

Brisbane City can be justly proud of its new ground. When it is completed to stage one, the cost will be rising $800,000 and it will rank third behind Bruce Stadium and Olympic Park. At the other side of Brisbane, the Lions Den is really top class now with first class facilities for everyone. But here's where the sexism comes in. The admission charges at Brisbane City are $3.50 for adult males and $2 for adult females, with pensioners $1. So, for the fun of it, ladies, approach your friendly director this afternoon with that proposition and watch the reaction, especially the premature greying of Kevin Osborne.

* * * * *
One of the major complaints that I heard from many Brisbane soccer officials, from the Brisbane City President down, was the timing of the screening of the 0/28 network's PSL program in Brisbane on Channel 9. The show hits the air at 11 a.m. on Saturday. (They should complain: we don't see it at all yet, though relief is at hand, we are told.) They and many other officials believed that they would have a top time slot. Well, on the ethnic channels in Sydney and Melbourne that is the case; elsewhere, the show gets the slot that the station programmers believe it deserves and, like it or not, soccer as yet doesn't attract the crowds or support that warrant prime time slotting.

I saw the program and was impressed by its content. But, horror of horrors, the twenty minutes of the Canberra Arrows against Adelaide Giants match was just two slabs stuck together with no attempt at editing. John Massa's near miss in the first half and Duncan Cole's screamer early in the second weren't shown, and you could have been forgiven for believing that the only activity in the goalmouth areas was Richard Wilson and Peter Marshall shouting advice to players. The Marconi Preston match was highlighted and how lucky the Leopards were to get away with both points. The goals from the Heidelberg Wollongong match demonstrated how much the Warriors need a new keeper.

But the point that came out to me was that, if the game is to attract more support and television is to play its part, the program must concisely present the real highlights in the tight fashion that makes Match of the Day unmissable fare. Oh, by the way, there is one member of the Arrows Board who does see the program each week. No names, no pack drill, but if I mention that the 0/28 signal goes through the Black Mountain tower, you won't get any free lunches or dinners at Canberra's top restaurant for guessing who.

PHILIPS

THROW INS

Did you hear that the Arrows Isaac Farrell proposed to long-standing girlfriend Trish Permann one night last week at the Club and the only reply Isaac got back was a blank look. We're not sure if alcohol played any role in the incident but an investigation is underway.

JOHN BROWN'S DECISION

Former Arrows player and coach John Brown is in something of a dilemma. Many players would be pleased to be facing the choices.

Having announced his decision to move with Lorna and the family to the Gold Coast, he was given a free transfer to Queensland State League side Gold Coast City.

This week, however, he will trial for Belconnen United in the inaugural NSW Southern League's John Barclay Cup. If successful he will probably stay with Belconnen.

John has played a total of 82 Philips League and Cup matches for the Arrows since joining in 1977 and took over the difficult job of PSL coach midway through the 1980 season when Vic Fernandez resigned. John was able to hold the team together and steer it to its best season, position wise, on the League table. Recognizing his considerable contribution to the Club over these formative years the Club granted him a free transfer, knowing how keen he is to keep playing. In 1977 John was awarded the Supporters Club Clubman of the Year and his participation in Club life will be missed.

The Club management, players and supporters extend John, Lorna and the children their best wishes for a bright and happy future and feel sure that whatever his new team, it has found itself someone who will undoubtedly improve its prospects for the coming season.

PLAYER OF THE YEAR AWARD

The striking combination of Walter Valeri and Tony Brennan certainly made an impact on Eddie Thomson's Sydney Slickers last Saturday, and he held no doubts when awarding Tony Brennan 3 points and Walter Valeri 2 points in the Arrows Player of the Year competition. After the game Eddie described Tony's role as 'dynamic' and Walter's goals as 'excellent' while he thought his own team's performance was 'awful'.

He saw the awarding of one point as being difficult since he thought all the Arrows players turned in a great performance. He was particularly impressed by the Arrows' 17 year old John Moutsopoulos having his first PSL appearance that day. In the final analysis and still unable to reach a decision, both Roy Stark, the Arrows effervescent captain, and John O'Shea, a tireless midfielder, were awarded 1 point each.

Progress scores after 4 games now stand at:

Tony Brennan	6
Terry Byrne, John O'Shea	4

In fact the A.I.S. is the home side! Next week we play them again, in a match that was postponed earlier in the season, and the Arrows are the home side.

Quite obviously the A.I.S. has attracted some of the best youngsters in Australia including Canberra Arrows player Alan Reis. Alan was offered a Commonwealth funded scholarship to attend the A.I.S. and the Arrows have released him for the period that he is there. When his course is finished he will have gained invaluable experience to bring back to the Arrows squad.
